Future Stewards Facilitator Training
7 – 10 December 2020, London UK
Why join?

To change the world around us, we need to be prepared to change ourselves.

The Future Stewards training is designed to equip leaders and facilitators to better address complex problems. The program blends tools for systems transformation with a focus on leadership and personal growth.

You’ll be part of an exceptional group of people from diverse backgrounds, who are committed to building a regenerative future. Over four days together, we’ll mix theory with hands on practice, and reflect on what it takes to lead in times of intense change.

- Systems Transformation: seeing the patterns at play in an interconnected world; developing tools to map systems and identify transformative innovations.

- Leadership and Personal Growth: developing self-awareness; fostering purpose and compassion.
What you will learn

Systems transformation
- Three Horizons tools as a practice for integrating multiple perspectives, priorities and time horizons.
- How to work with dilemmas and find pathways forward.
- Identify and foster transformative innovations to deliver lasting change.

Leadership and personal growth
- Best self leadership: a simple, powerful model built on decades of work by developmental psychologists, philosophers and thought leaders.
- Focus on purpose, inner-alignment, compassion and being open to change.
- Build capacity to foster deep collaboration and trust.
- Understand our impact on others and how we can be the best version of ourselves more of the time.
Who are Future Stewards

We are a coalition of three partners:

Global Optimism was founded by the architects of the Paris Climate Agreement, Christiana Figueres and Tom Carnac. They bring insights on the behaviors, mindsets and leadership required to build coalitions, and a dynamic network of global leaders who know and trust their skills.

Leaders’ Quest develops effective, compassionate leaders for fast-changing environments. Clients range from multinationals to non-profits, governments and systemic initiatives.

We Mean Business catalyzes influential businesses to transition to a low-carbon economy. It fosters collaboration between traditional competitors and brings experience of convening diverse stakeholders from across a sector.

Together we address complex systemic problems, using practical tools to enhance leadership effectiveness, foster collaboration and drive transformative change. Future Stewards training is designed to build common language, tools and skills to work effectively in a complex, fast-changing world.
We came back with a tremendous amount of energy, many fresh connections, and new thinking.

Zia Khan
The Rockefeller Foundation

The program was a key milestone in my own transformation journey. We brought back transformative ideas that were immediately implemented.

Virginie Helias
P&G

Every company needs to exist to solve a societal problem – and if we get it right for society and our customers, the financial benefits will follow.

Ashok Vaswani
Barclays UK

We came back with a tremendous amount of energy, many fresh connections, and new thinking.

Zia Khan
The Rockefeller Foundation

The program gives you the confidence to push the boundaries of comfort, how you think about yourself, your role in the world and what it takes to achieve the things you want.

Peter Wheeler
The Nature Conservancy

The program opened my eyes to a higher level of leadership – one that thinks and acts at a global level, with a high degree of responsibility and integrity, without reducing shareholder value.

Jim Hagemann Snabe
SAP, Maersk, Allianz, Siemens, Bang and Olufsen, World Economic Forum

The program gives you the confidence to push the boundaries of comfort, how you think about yourself, your role in the world and what it takes to achieve the things you want.

Peter Wheeler
The Nature Conservancy

What our participants say
Practicalities

Dates
Monday 7 – Thursday 10 December 2020 (London)
Daily sessions will run 9am to 5pm (1pm on closing day).
All participants need to participate in the full program; we cannot accept late arrivals or early departures.

Cost
This is a not-for-profit initiative. The cost excluding travel and accommodation is £1,500 GBP/$2,000 US. For those who are able to contribute more, we will be pleased to receive contributions to help fund scholarship places.

Facilitators
The program will be facilitated by future practitioner Bill Sharpe together with colleagues from Leaders’ Quest and We Mean Business.

To book or find out more about joining our program, please contact rosa.martin@leadersquest.org.